'Service' is the objective of Thomas Jefferson's R.O.T.C. The year is not only filled with the basic learning of military skills, but also of service to the community. During the holidays, the companies participate in many activities that help our community. T.J.'s R.O.T.C. believes that it is a personal holiday to help those in need.

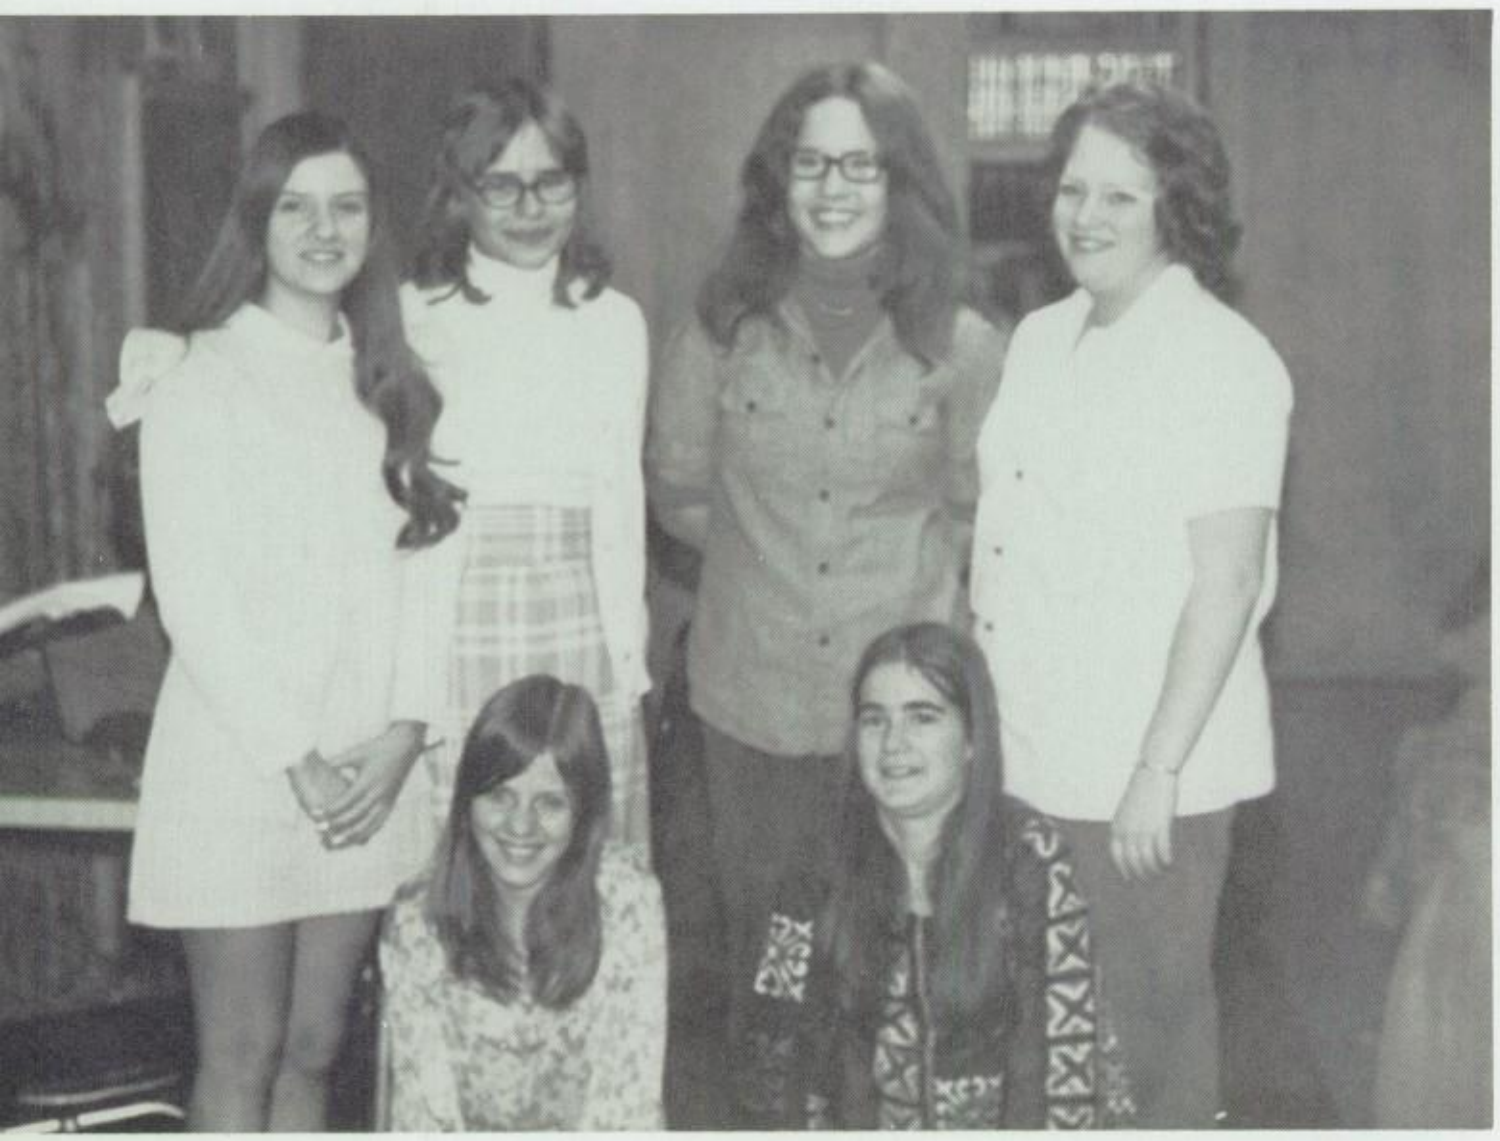
Key Club provided Senior boys with the opportunity to serve at school and throughout the community. Under the leadership of President Steve Dye and Sponsor Mr. Dorsett, this year's club members did just that—serve.



F.H.A.

This year was an unusual one for members of Future Homemakers of America. Not only did the club gain insight into homemaking, but the members were able to get some practical experience when they opened a coffee shop in room 103. Cooking and waitressing, F.H.A. gained the support of many hungry students and faculty members.

Come in! Come in! Radio Club spent a lot of time talking this year. Although their headquarters were vandalized, members continued in their effort to communicate with the help of their ham radio.

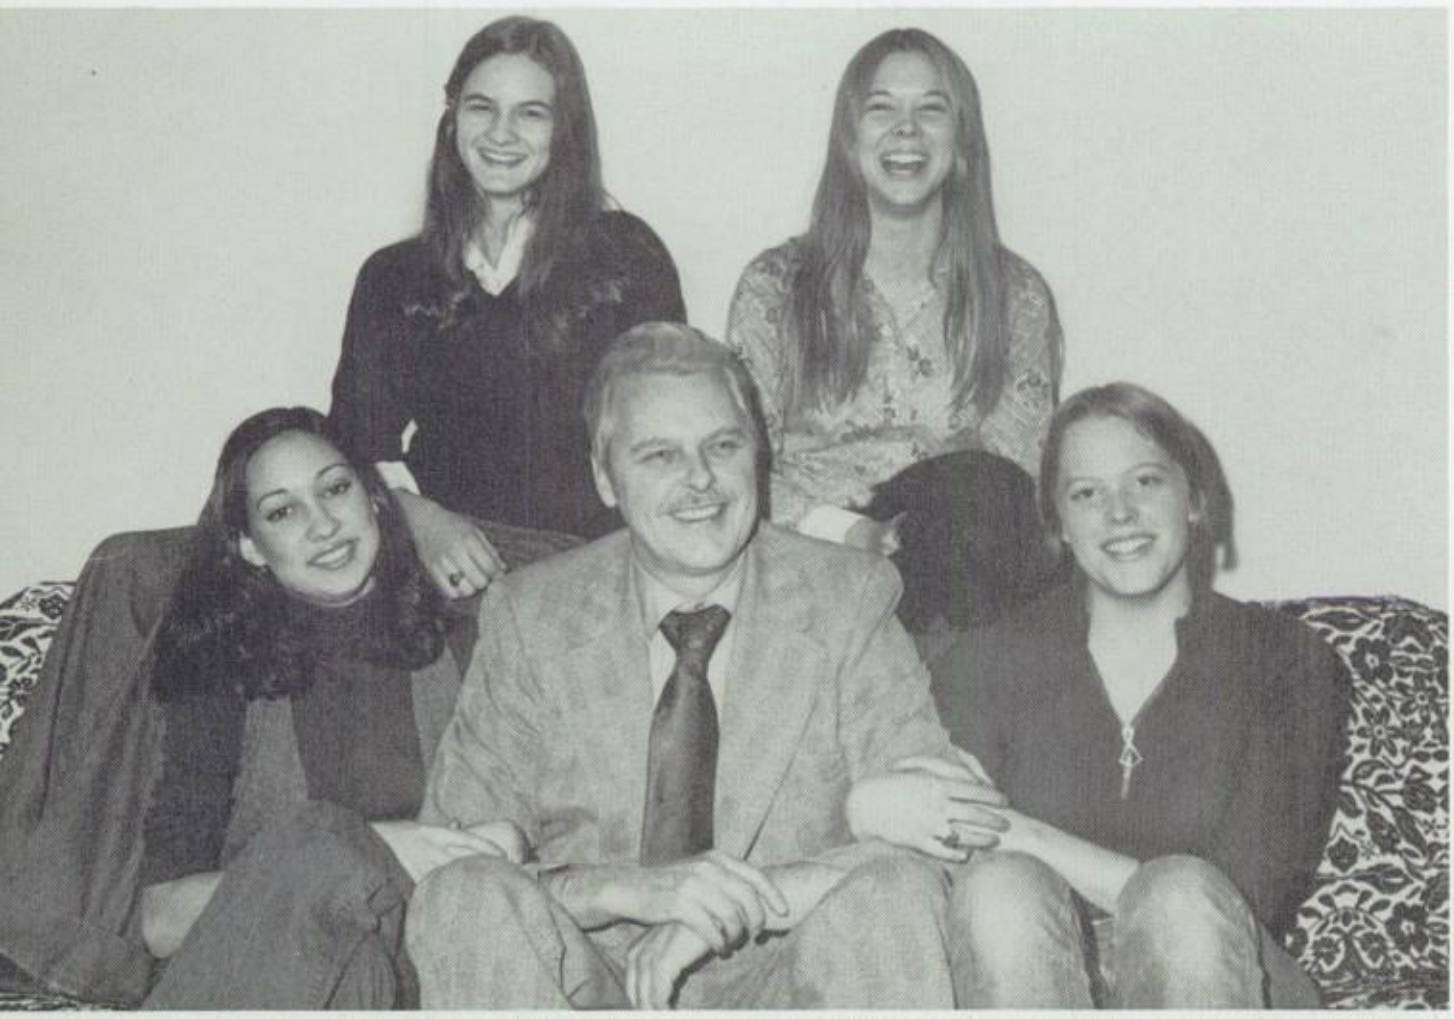
I.R.C.



Guided by sponsor Mr. O'Brien, I.R.C. attempts to break the barriers of ignorance with knowledge. Insight into other cultures provides members with more of an understanding of the world.

Ms. Lucek, this year's F.B.L.A. sponsor, helps club members gain practical experience in the business fields. Officers include: Shirley Scott, reporter; Mary Plank, treasurer; Sue Johnson, president; Lisa Watson, secretary; Phyllis Morgan, historian; (pictured below), and vice-president Pam Sutherlin, not shown. The inspiration this club provides today will contribute to the future of America's business world tomorrow.

F.T.A.

F.T.A. had seven new initiates this year. With each member contributing in her own way, F.T.A. had an outstanding year.

D.E.C.A.

"To build future leaders in the field of marketing and distribution." This is the goal of DECA. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Smith, club members received on-the-job training where they were able to use knowledge gained in the daily DECA class. Building future leaders, building better business. DECA '74.

V.I.C.A.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America serve students by helping them establish vocational goals to fit their interests and abilities. V.I.C.A. develops an understanding of the trained worker—what he can contribute to society, and a respect for the dignity of work in trade ethics, workmanship, scholarship, and safety.

H.E.R.O.

Students of the H.E.R.O. classes comprise the club's membership. Each member acquires skills in such areas as Commercial Food Service, Needle Trades, Child Care, Home Decoration, and Home Nursing. Club members display what they have learned in class in state wide competition with other H.E.R.O. clubs in all of the areas.

H.E.O.

In 1970, H.E.O. had a membership of 18 students. This year the club had 54 members who enjoyed on the job training in Home-Ec. related areas as well as in H.E.O. classes. Training is available in child care, fabric centers, and restaurants. H.E.O. is growing, and through experience, so are its members.

F.A.C.

Raising money for charity is one of F.A.C.'s activities. The members are all Seniors, boys, and clowns! In doing good work for the community, they also have a good time.

Latin Club

Does anyone know how to say 31 flavors in Latin?

Latin Club members enjoy their meetings, as officers Sharon Kenna, Stephanie Colmer, and Patty Nakaoki demonstrate here.

French Club

French Club this year was unique not only in its language, but also in the fine leadership of its two sponsors, Ms. Becker and Mr. Pierson. Daffy apple sales enabled the club to create an elaborate French gala. Officers Pam Hix, Ford Middleton and Angela Koclanes were among the guests who savored the exquisite cuisine.

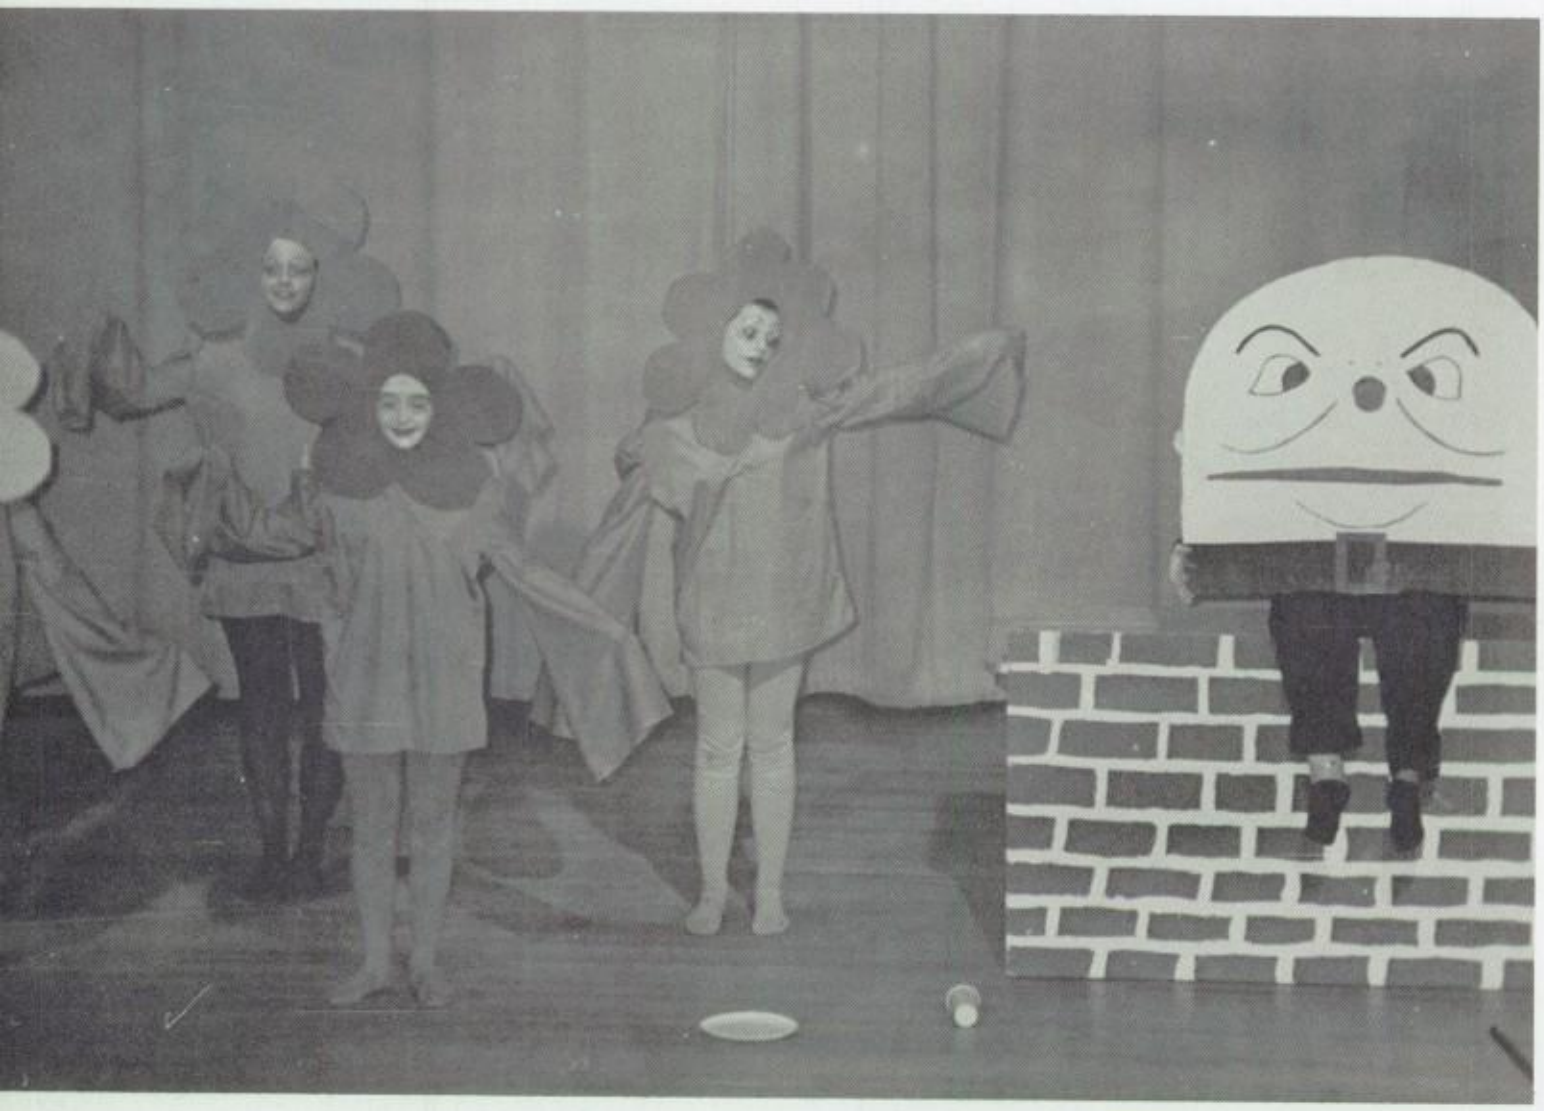
Drama Club Presents

Alice in Wonderland



McGreggors Beggars originated as an extra-curricular activity in 1967. The 30 to 40 performances the group performed that year were only the beginnings of what the Beggars are now doing.

This year's Beggars performed over 100 shows, primarily medleys of contemporary musicals and appropriate holiday carols for civic, social, school, and charitable organizations throughout Colorado.

"Beggars are so close and friendly—we are one big beautiful family."

Although Ski Country U.S.A. was dry at the beginning of the season, Ski Club members kept their faith, and soon the white gold fell in measurements of feet at a time. With the energy shortage many students found Ski Club to be the ideal way to get to the areas.

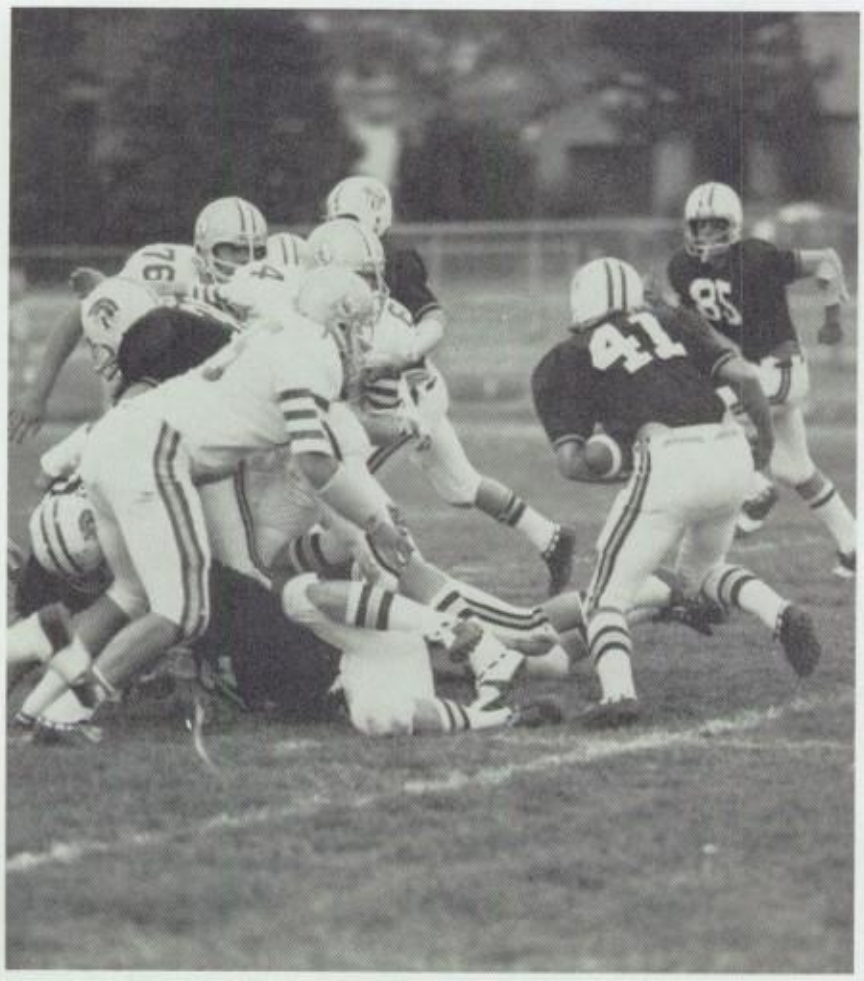
Offensively . . .

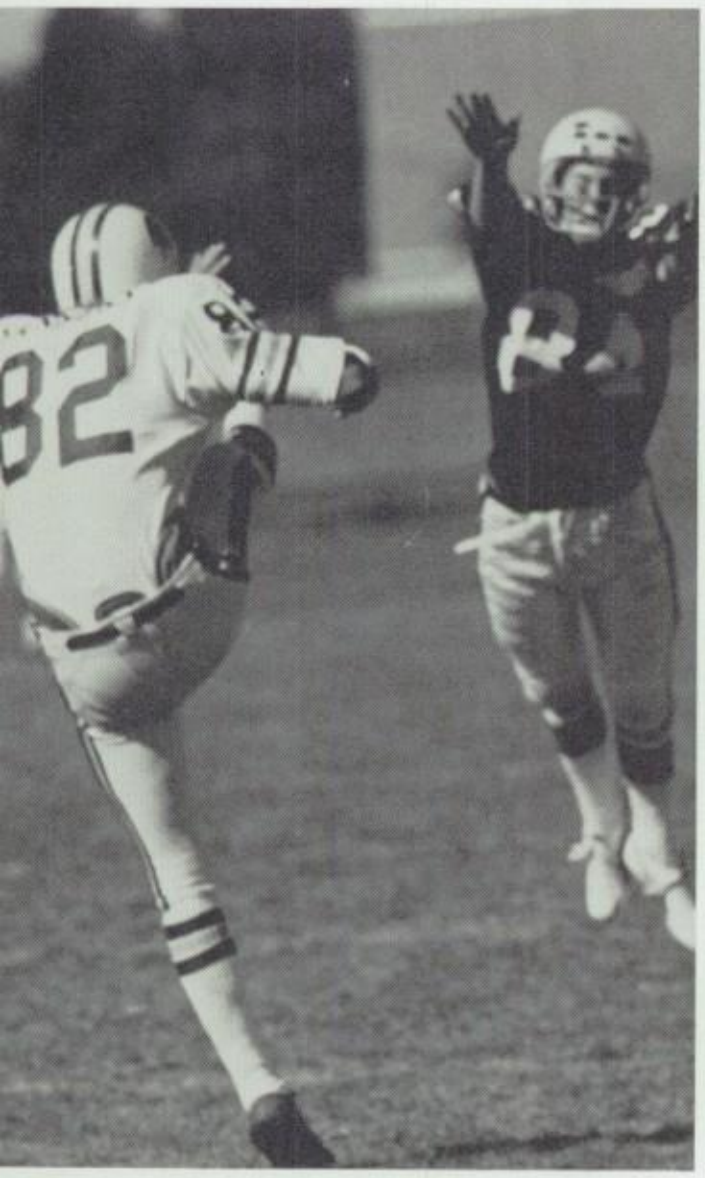
The TJ Spartan football team ended with a season of 8 wins, 2 losses, and 0 ties. Our 2 losses were claimed by South and Kennedy. South won the league championship with Kennedy as runner-up. In rushing, TJ stood in 4th place with a total of 2587 yards. In total offense Steve Dye ended the season in 5th place with 866 total yards. In rushing Dye finished 3rd with 769 yards, and Mark Smolen finished with 331 yards. At passing Dave Bullock finished 7th with 205 yards. Dye led the league in scoring with 14 touchdowns, 2 point after attempts, and a total of 86 points. In punting Scott Sanders settled with 7th place and 731 total yards.

Defensively . . .

TJ in first place, held the league with a minimum of ,333 total yards. TJ minimized forward drives to 82 ards, rushing to 771 yards, passing to 512 yards, an verage of 166.6 yards. Dick Golder, with assts. Andy Geiss, Ken Hughes, Herman Motz and Rex Peters, oached the team this year. Steve Dye and Scott Cole eceived all-city honors. This year's team was a clear ndication that high school football is back on the up-wing. Our hats are off to a team which did their amndest and made the school, as a whole, proud of hat effort.



No. 41 Steve Dye surges through the middle for another touchdown.



lo. 82 Scott Sanders gets off another deep punt.

No. 23 Mark Smolen breaks another tackle for great yardage.

No. 11 Steve DiTolla goes for the end and some extra yardage.

Steve DiTolla unloads with a long one.

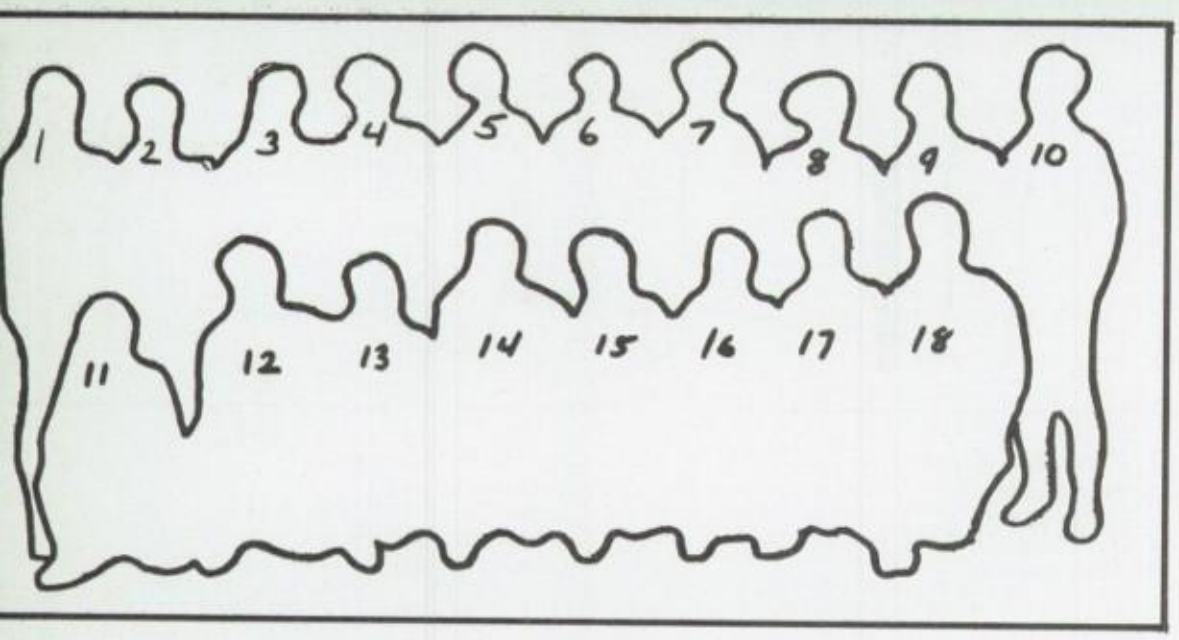
13. Steve Johnson

Coach Learned's never-ending strive for an excellent cross country team was witnessed in this years result Five men, including Donny Learned and Hardy Bramley, were All-City. The team captured seven wins out of a possible 13 meets. New faces this year included Steve Johnson and Bob McKinley.

Network Held . . .



. . . this year's sophomores were characterized by good size, adequate team speed, and a strong bench. With all these superb qualities, the sophomore basketball team offers the potential for a city contender when it graduates to the varsity level.

the Globetrotters

. . . they aren't, but the potential is there. With an average of 20 points per game Rob McDermott led in scoring as well as regaining the individual city scoring lead with 96 points. Under the direction of Coach Gaston Santi and his assistant Kenneth Hughes, Thomas Jefferson's varsity basketball team exhibited their great potential throughout the season.

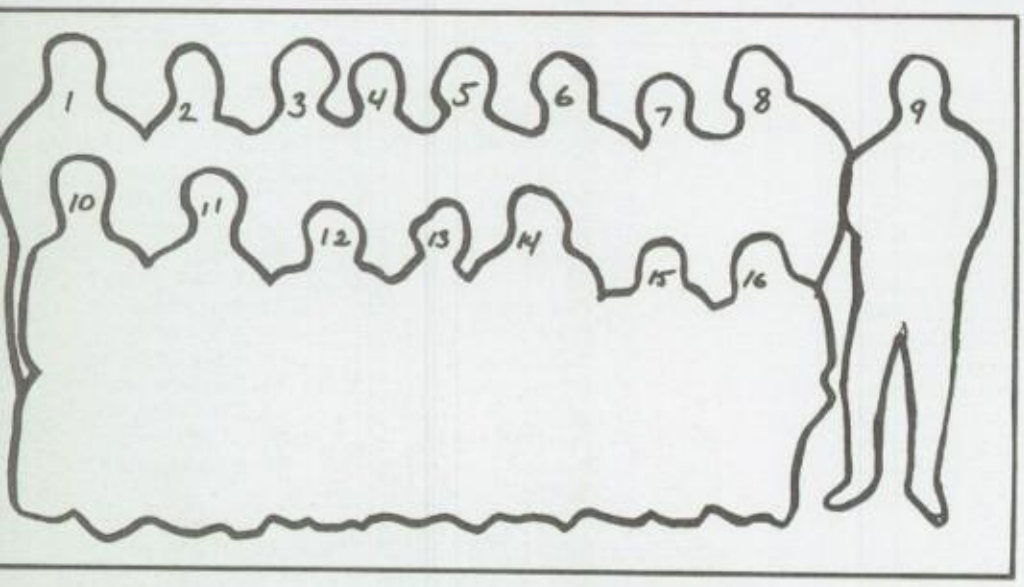
Preciseness

. . . and skill were the obvious qualities which girls' gymnastics strived for this year. The girls were well represented and in contention throughout the season.

Swingin' . . .



. . . through the air with the greatest of ease is how the Thomas Jefferson Boys Gymnastics team aims to please. With effortless grace the Spartans returned from previous state laurels only to match them again this year. Coach Smith and assistant coach Ron Allright proved once again that with steady leadership and the ability of returning seniors, one can mold a team into strength and superior quality.

Pinning the Opponent...

. . . is probably the ultimate goal in each individual wrestling match. Mat action is tough and demanding. A wrestler has to be keen and aware of the opposition's next move. Running . . .

. . . doesn't stop on the cross country track in the month of October. Spartan sprinters returned in March to pick up where they left off in the fall. Of course, sprinting is only one facet of the T.J. Spartan track team. Under the direction of Coach Gordon Learned and his assistants, Dr. Herman Motz and Brent Page, the team also placed highly in the shotput, relay, broadjump, high-jump, and pole-vault.

Run 'Em Ragged . . .

. . . is very descriptive of the Thomas Jefferson girls track team. Under the direction of Ms. Johnson and her assistant Ms. Brown, the team achieved the same goals and success they had incurred the previous year. Returning squad members added leadership and strength to a very youthful squad. Track team endeavors included broad jumping, high jumping, relays and sprinting.

Hard Work . . .

and long hours are the two elements which have produced a strong Thomas Jefferson swim team in 1973-74. From the hours of 6:30 until 7:45 and 3:00 till 4:30 Spartan splashers practiced under the colorful direction of Mr. Geraghty and Mr. Smith. Standouts this year included Dave Netzel, swimming breaststroke, and Bob Robbins on the board.

Colorado

. . . weather made the completion of the 1973 baseball season an impossibility. Therefore, the Colorado High School Activities Association set up a championship tournament between the top four high school teams. Not being one of the four contenders, Thomas Jefferson had to settle with 5 wins and 8 losses. T.J. didn't have a shot at the city title, which Kennedy won.

Music is playing inside my head
Over and over and over again
My friend, there's no end to the Music

Ah, summer is over
But the music keeps playing
And won't let the cold get me down

Pictures are forming inside my brain
Soon with the colors they'll rain
Together and grow
Then don't you know, don't you know
There'll be music

Ah, it's not always easy
But the music keeps playing
And won't let the world get me down

Music is playing inside my head

Simon Says:

Change
Your Ways

Conserve!!

1973 seemed to be a year of warning. It was a year of shortages, political scandals, and the energy crisis. It appeared to be giving us signs of what to expect in the future if we don't change our life styles.

The gas shortage was a hindrance to almost everyone as several gas stations kept shorter hours for extended periods of time. This shortage led to a need for better metro transit systems, harmed many businesses depending on tourist response, caused a downfall in large car productions, and called for all Americans to cooperate with new laws. The 55 m.p.h. speed limit led to a mild disturbance by the truckers with their blockades and threats. They tried to prove that their trucks got better mileage at 70 m.p.h. than at 55 m.p.h., but failed the test.

Not only was there a shortage in gas, but in foods as well. The beef shortage especially caused inconveniences among people. In Colorado, the grocer's strike added to this as many stores were forced to close, and even the ones that could remain open had counters nearly empty, as there was no one to stock them.

Another event concerning Americans and of special interest to people in Colorado was the brief appointment of former Governor John Love as Energy Czar. However, due to various circumstances, he was soon replaced by William Simon.

1973 is a year that should be looked back upon with concern. Watergate and the energy crisis are two additional events of major importance, but even these few listed are indicative of what is to come if we keep our selfish ways. The American people must work together if these problems are to end.

One of the most outstanding assemblies this year was that of the performance of Don Lewis.
With the use of an organ, a synthesizer and assorted electrical equipment, he treated the audience to music ranging from 2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY to SHAFT, and provided one of the most imaginative performances ever given on the T.J. stage.
He received a well-deserved standing ovation as well as the admiration of the student body.

Honorary Cadets '74

Members of this year's Honorary Cadets continued to fulfill a worthwhile role in school and community. Exhibition Drill included S. Bischoff, D. Hunt, K. O'Neill, D. Mortimer, D. Dennison, P. Nakaoki, Commander J. Manley, J. Galemba, J. Faust, A. Shoppell, S. Link, R. Clarke, S. Johnson and N. Walker. Diane Dennison was voted the 1974 Military Ball Queen Candidate. Discipline and leadership proved to be essential qualities for all members of the Honorary Cadets.

write on, in praise of endless patience

Without the help of Mr. Chamberlin, The Denver Post, National Geographic, Life, Love, Marla, Scott, Denise, Peace, Paper by Delsi, Carole King, Job, Rapidograph, Richard Jones, William Reid, Eileen (mother of munchies) and every other body, this production would have been more impossible, less pleasurable. Thank you 1. and all of the above! (not shown advertisers too!)

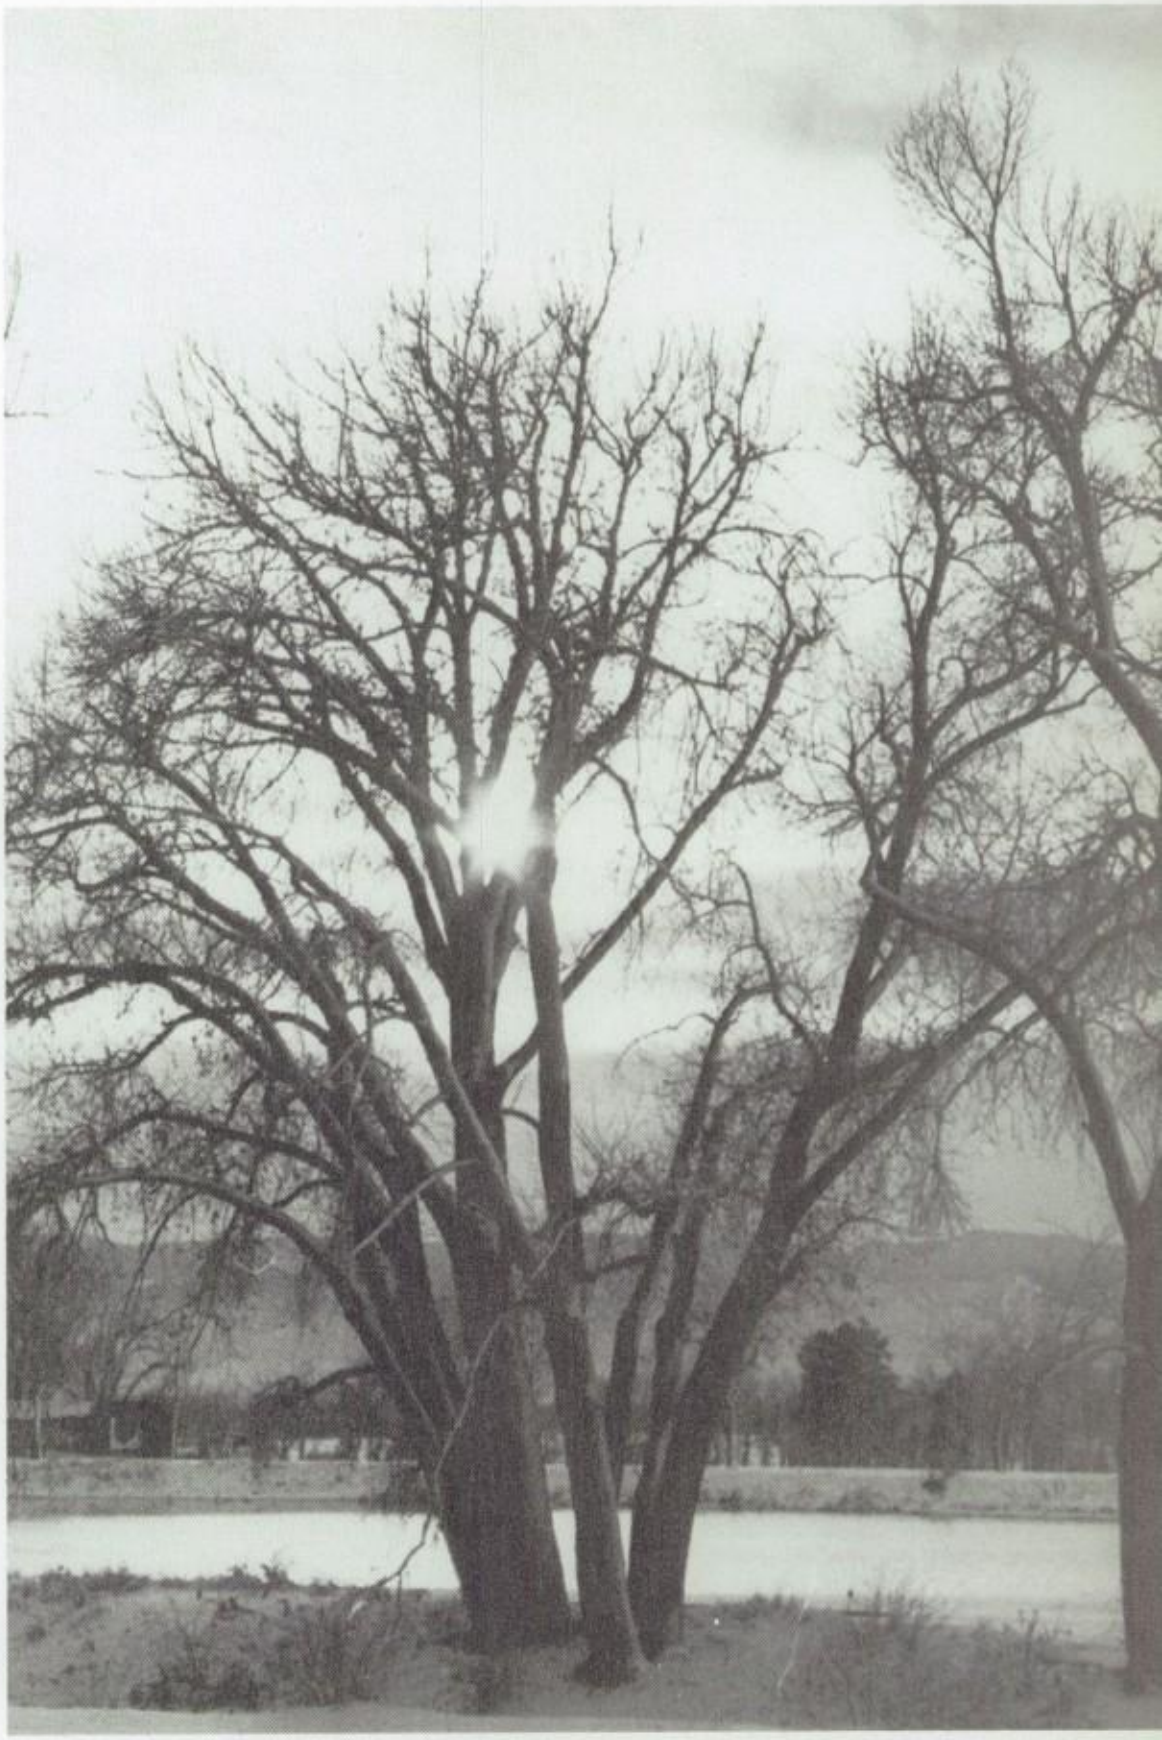
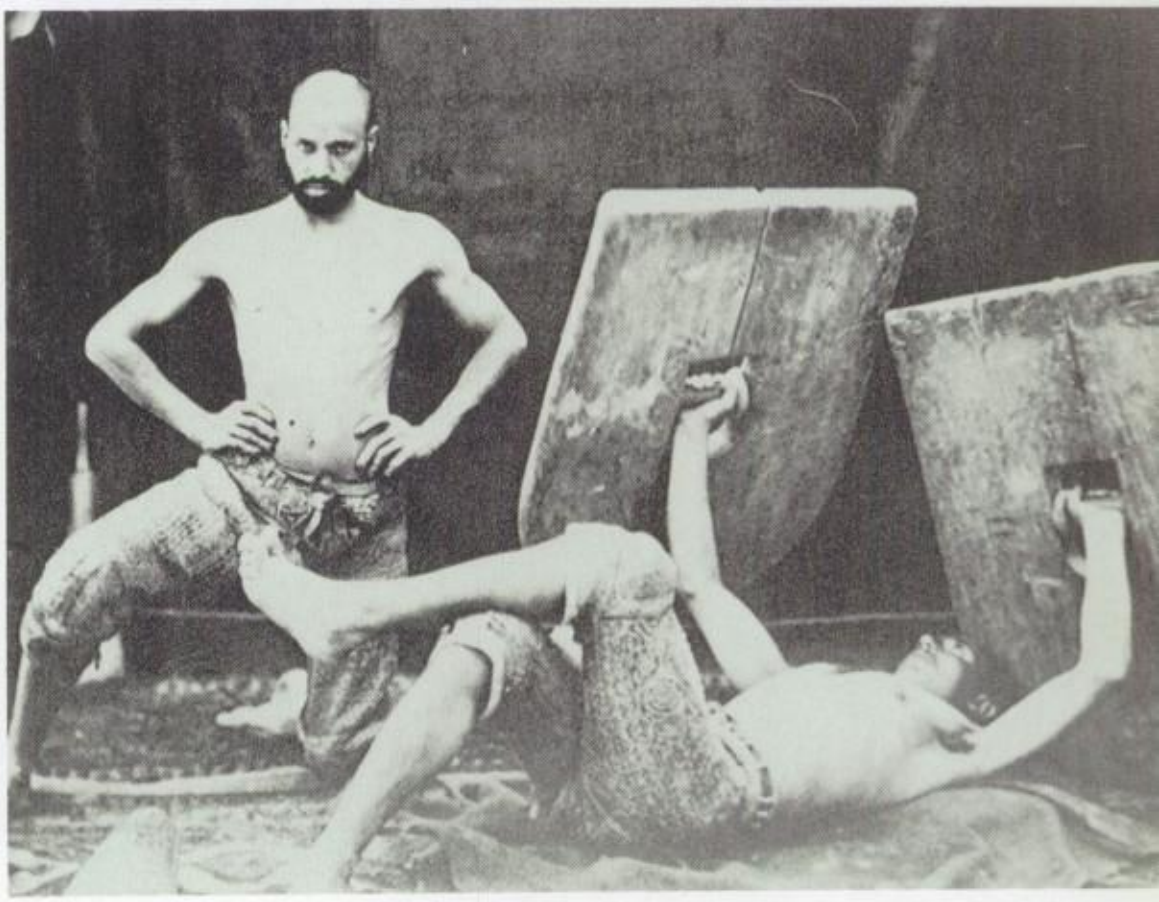
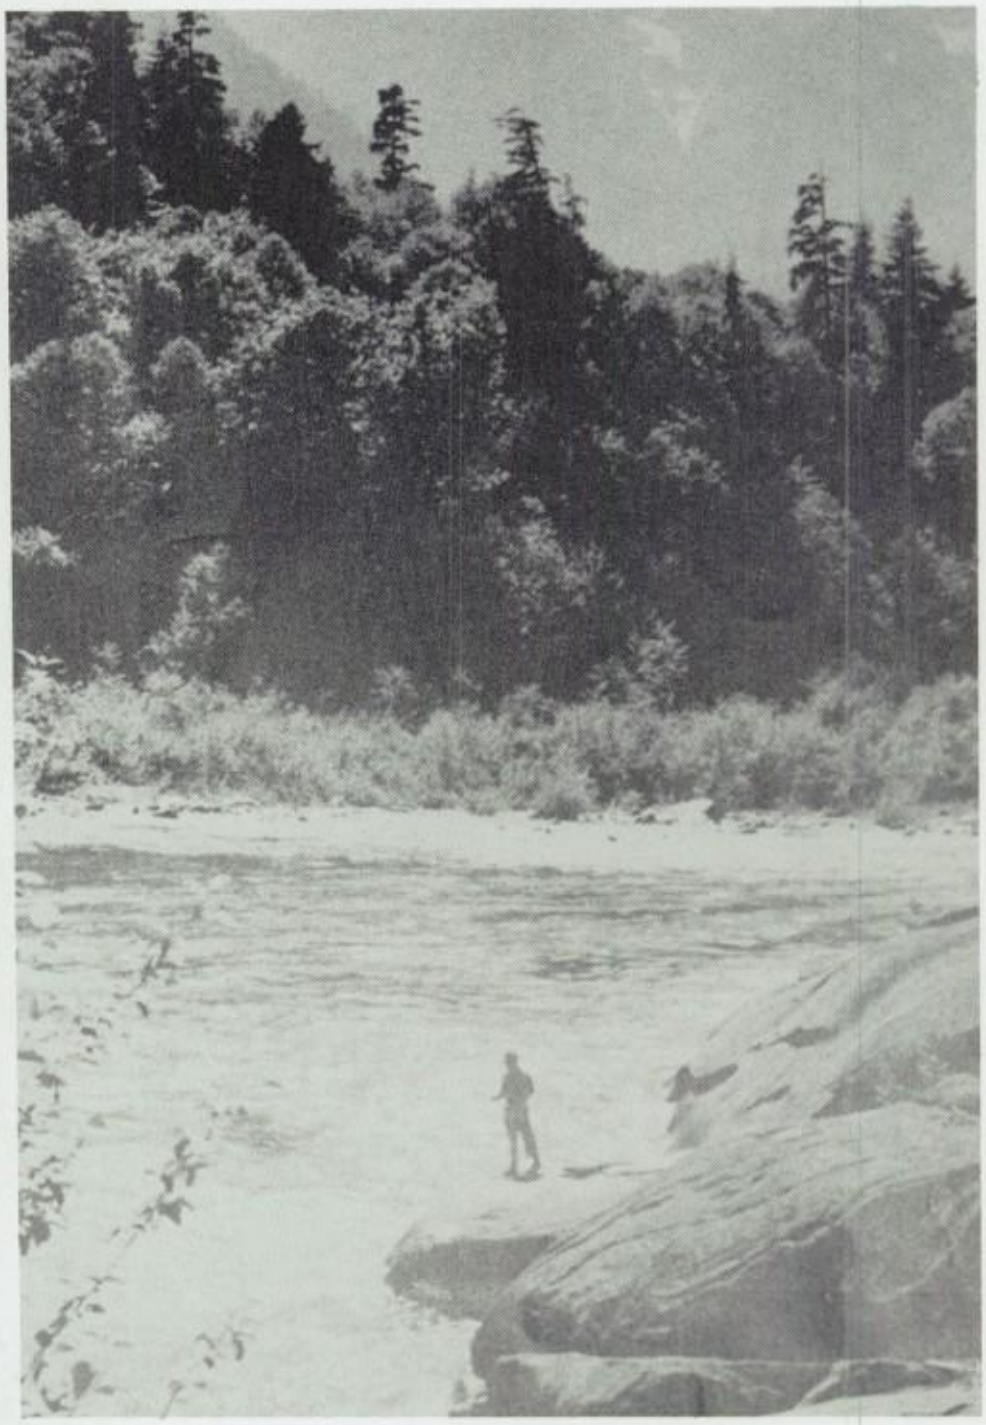
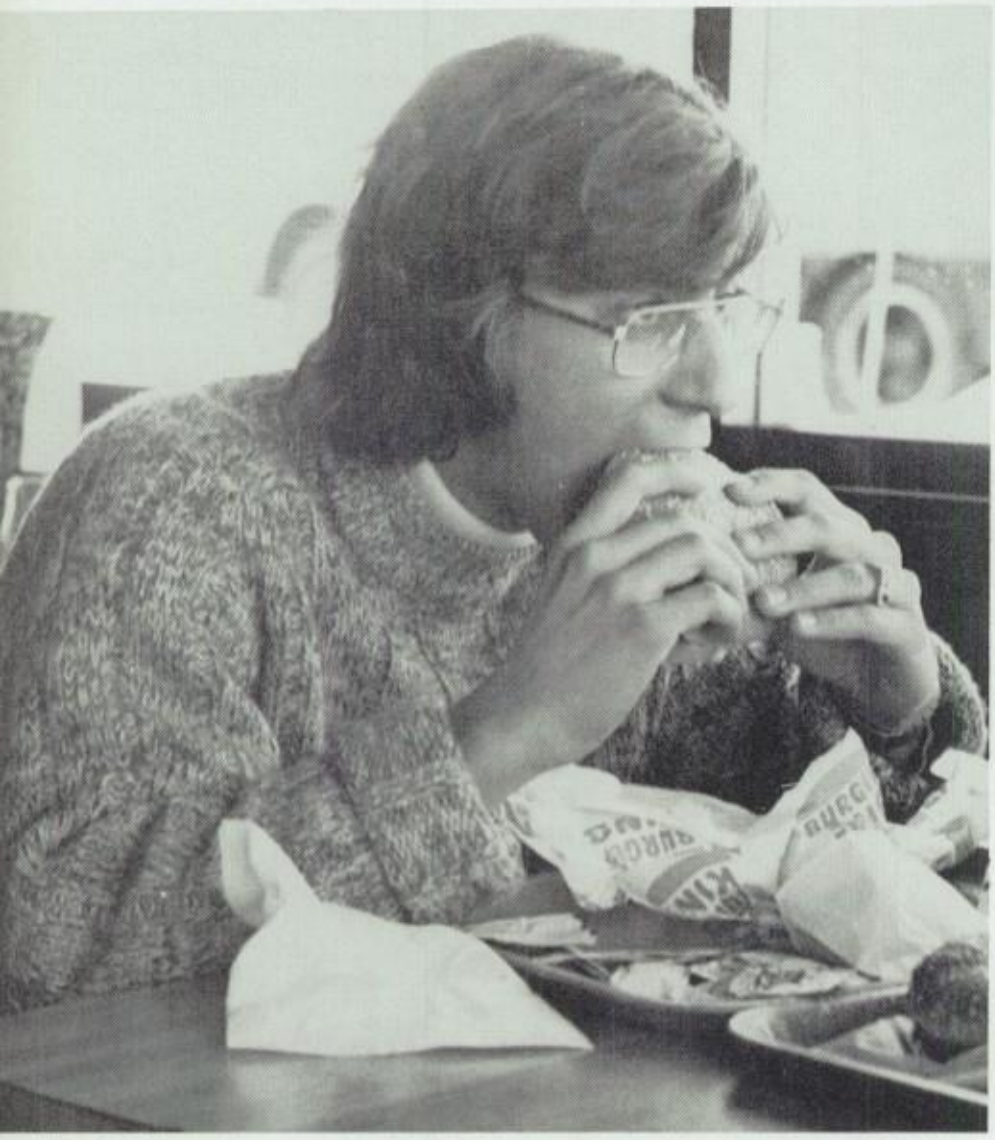
. . . And so once again your eyes are opened to the day, and the world lifts up its blinds before them.



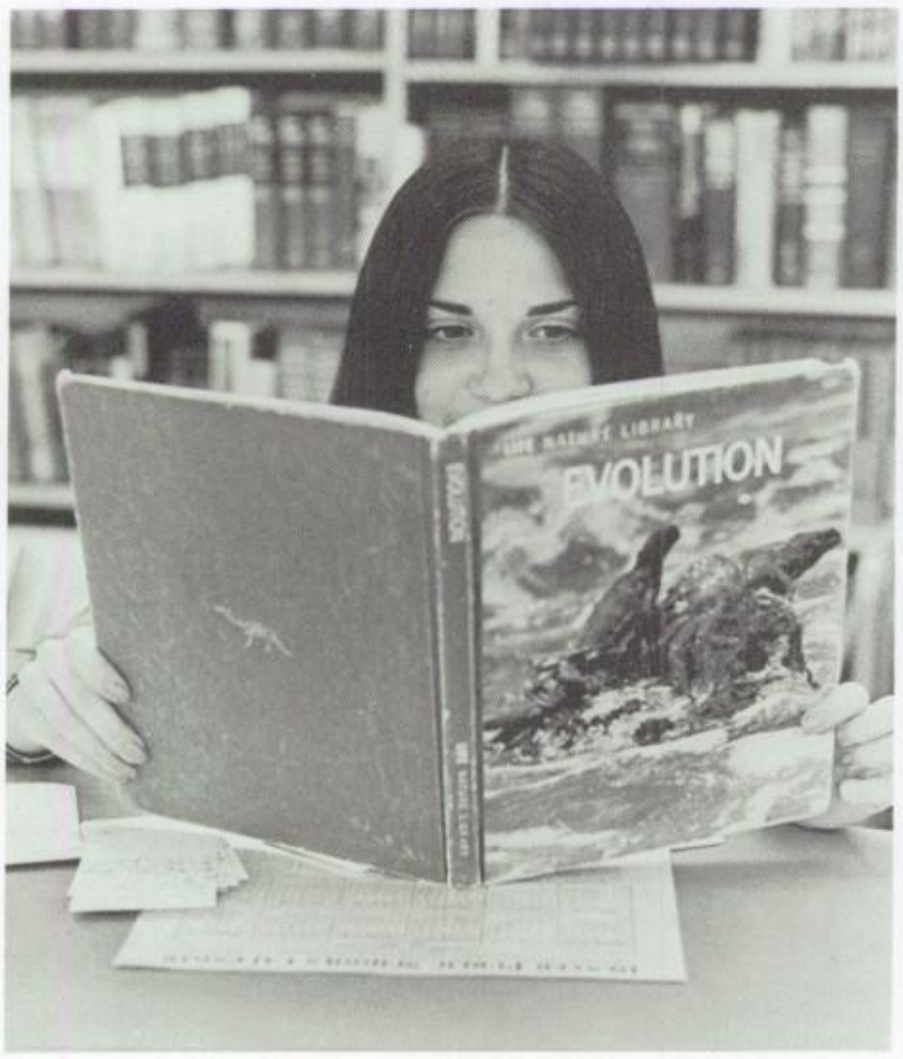


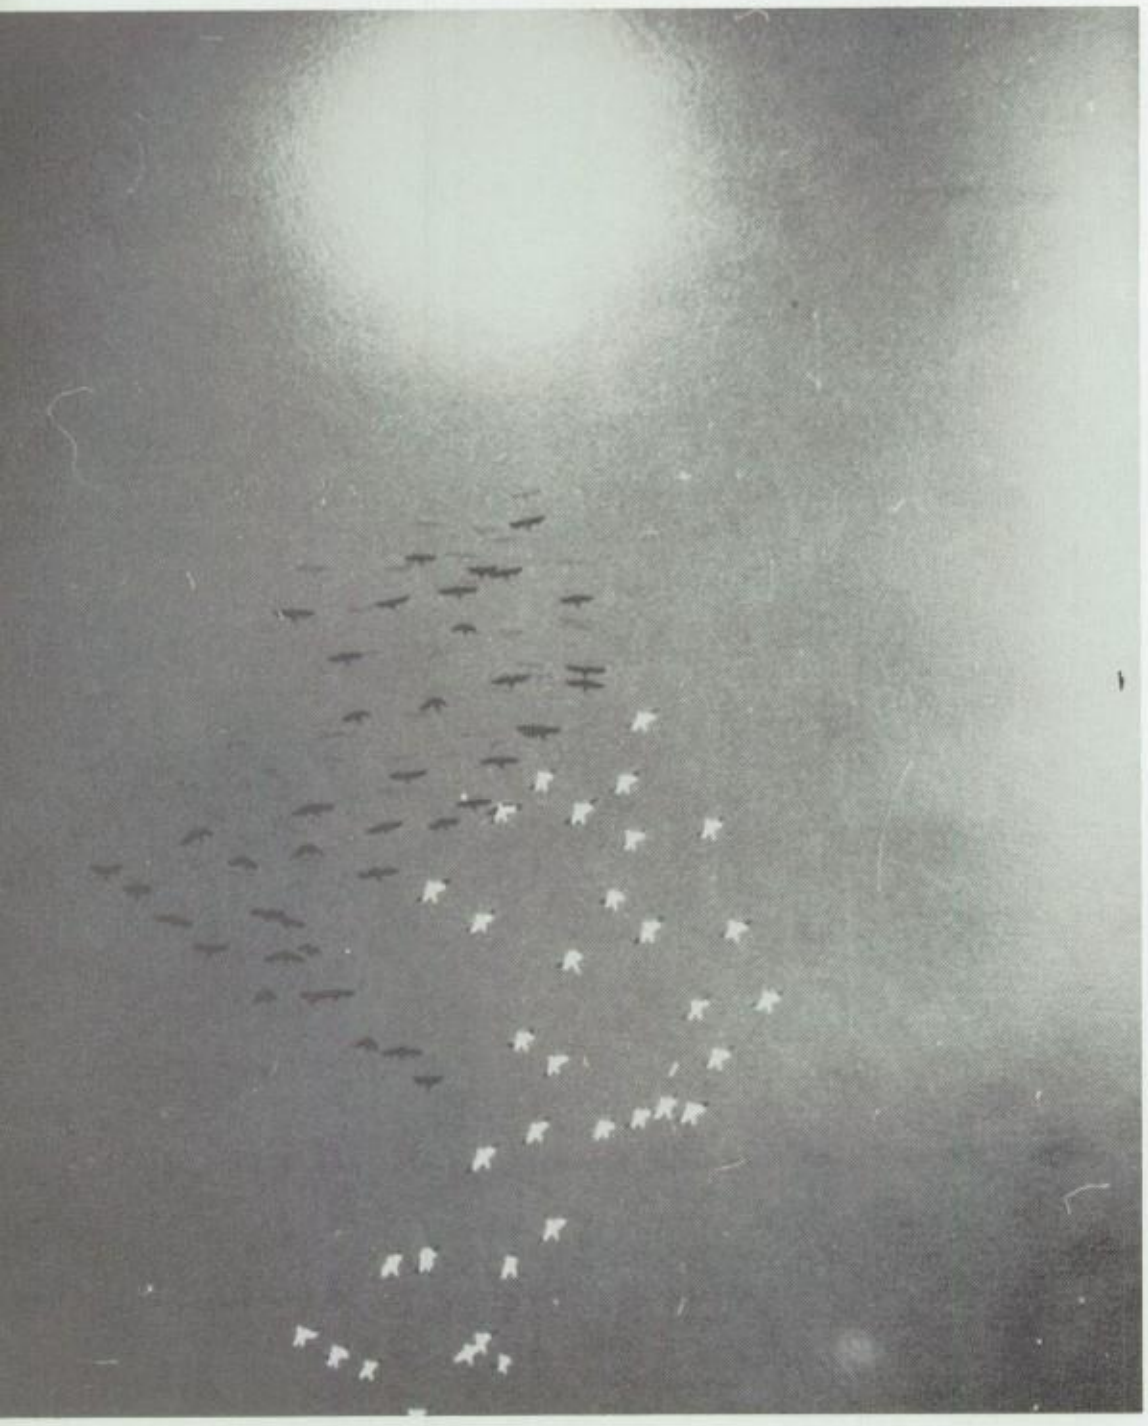
The rays of the sun envelop the land as they have so often done before, yet on this occasion it is more than just the passing of a continual moment.





For the first time you are awakened to the knowledge that you are indeed alive, that each minute particle of an existence holds its own secrets waiting for your curious mind to uncover them.



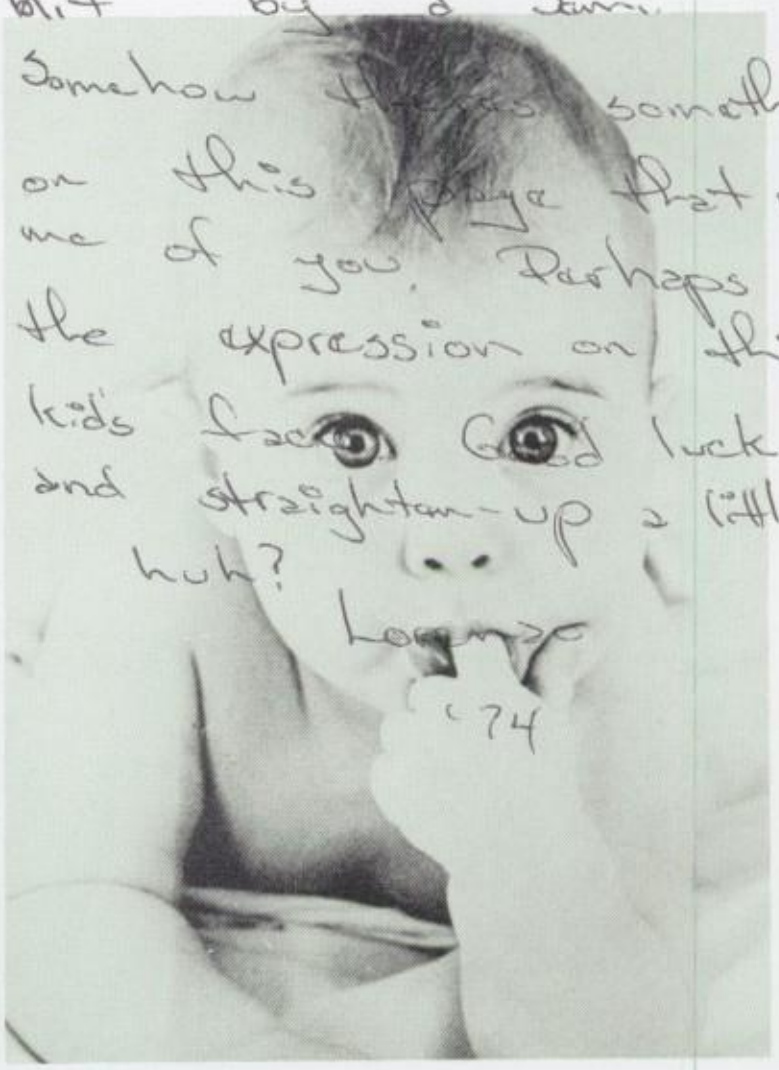


Gabrida,

Take care as you walk down the road of life 'cuz you never know when you'll get hit by a Sami. Somehow this is something on this page that reminds me of you. Perhaps it's the expression on this kid's face. Good luck always and straighten-up a little, huh?

Love ya

'74



It is then that the morning sunrise offers its answer to a thought-covered question . . .

Then that a child's cry, a young mother's pride, an old man's sigh
dares you to explore the path of your knowledge . . .

Then that the sounds of the sea are felt from the ivory tower walls in the concrete jungle.

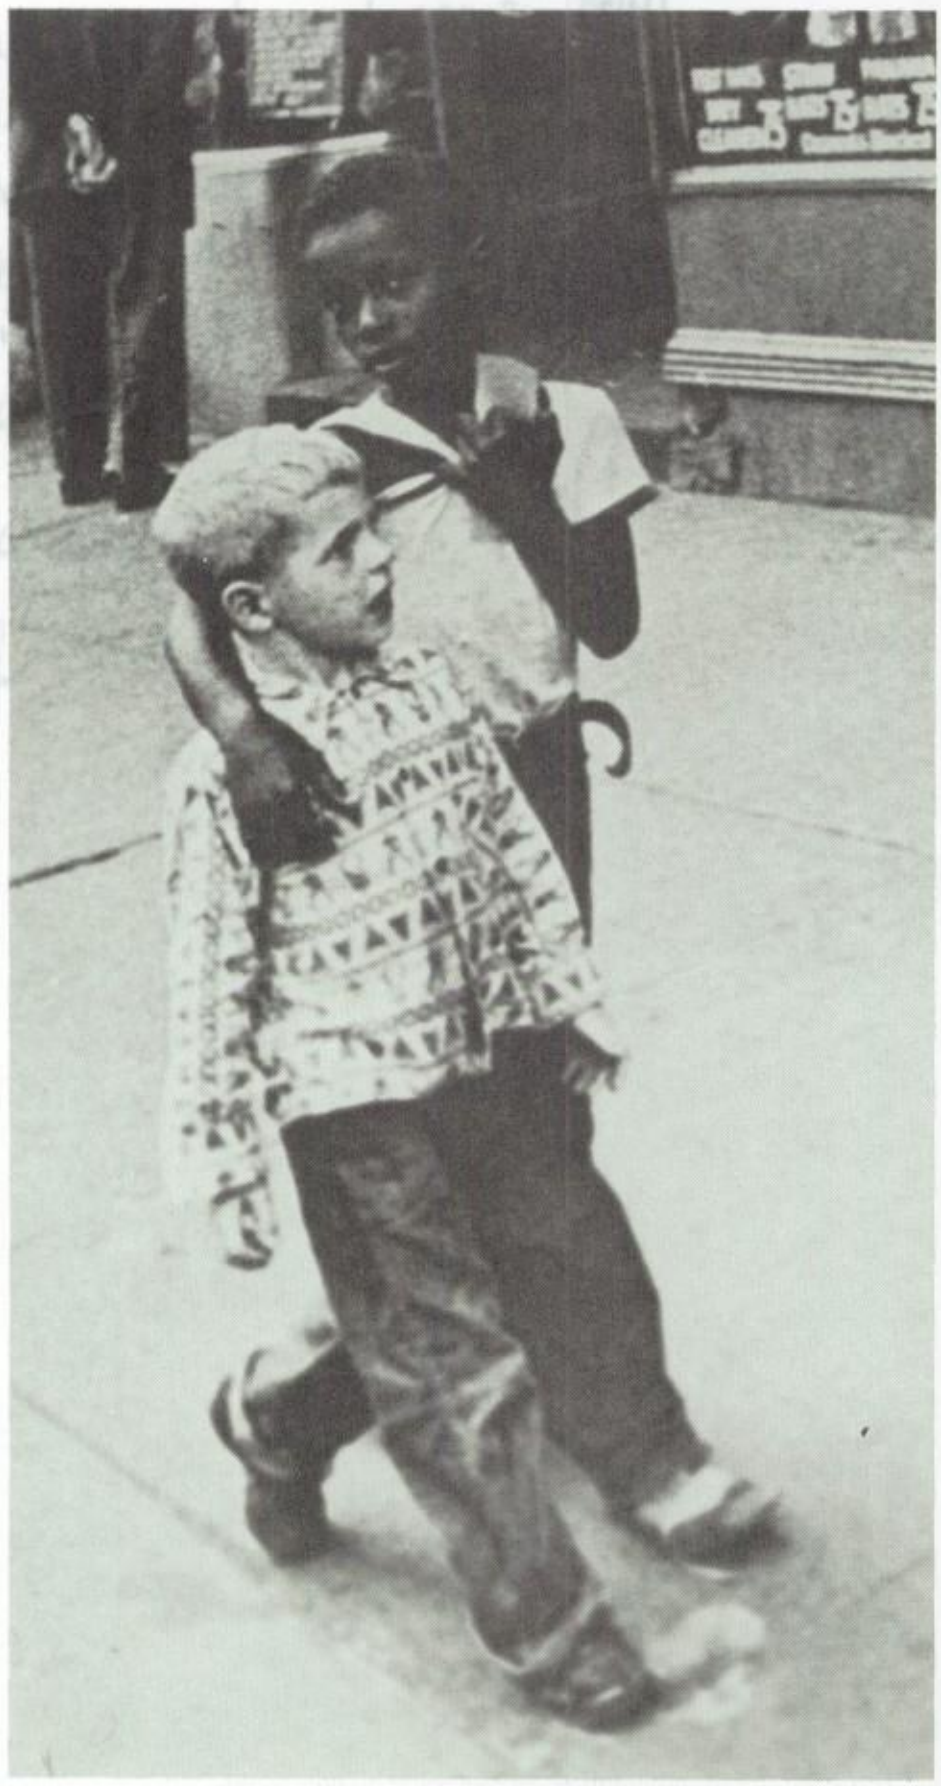
Querida Gabriela,

Ojalá que puedo escribir en español - estoy harta de esto (not really). Esta clase del nivel cinco fue una experiencia muy extraordinaria. I hope that you'll get most of what you want and I wish you all the luck in the world. I know. I'll see you again. ¡Hasta la vista!

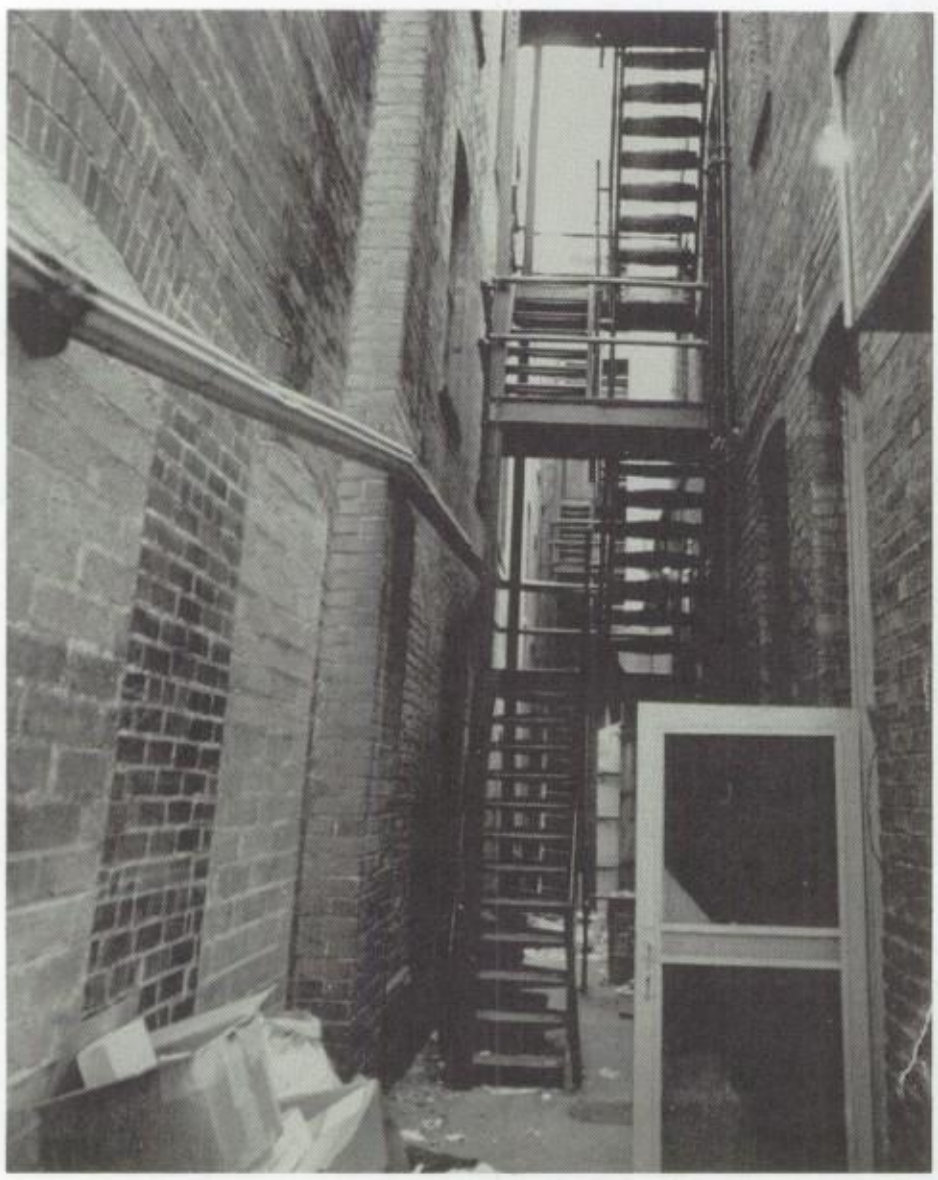
Con Mucho Amor,

Irene

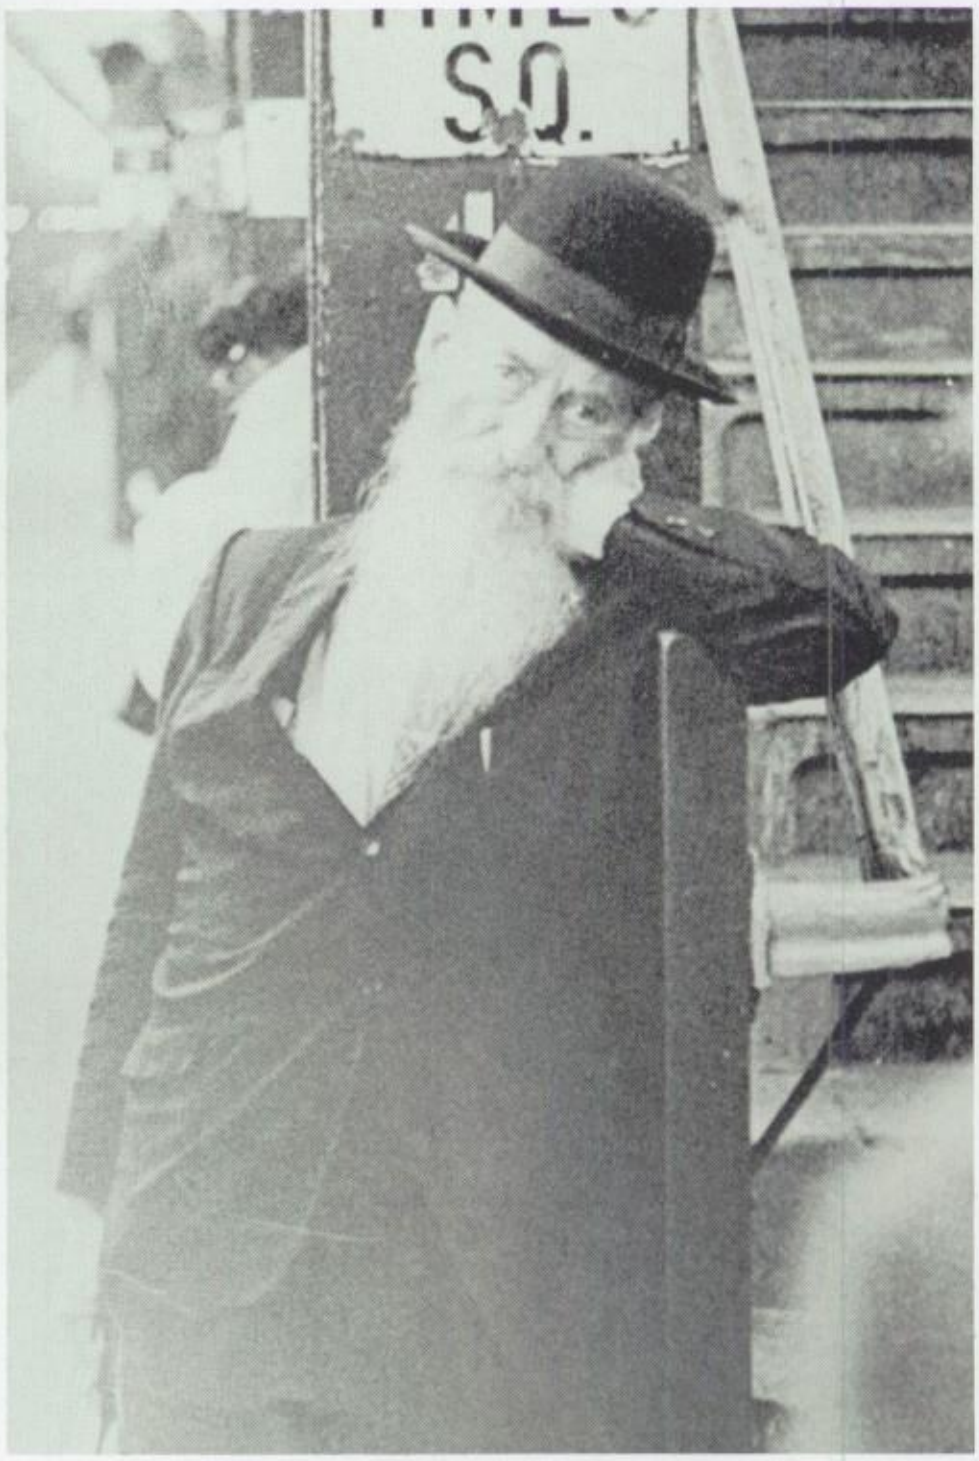


What was once accepted gives forth new light. What was once hidden in the obscure catacombs of a dream now shrieks to the dawning of each new day.

The road, in truth, is still lengthy and obscure, and now it holds so many new paths to answer your questions—questions of that "golden life" which you have dared to ask and realize you must continue to ask . . .



For it is that "golden life" which you strive to change as, indeed, you have now changed.



And so the time has come for you to nourish in your rebirth as your childhood was nourished into maturity, maturity nourished into dreams, dreams into tomorrow. For in searching out towards this new life you will find new dreams, new thoughts, new goals for which an answer may be found only with the changing tide of each new morn—with the shouting forth of tomorrow's song.

—Greg Dinner, '74

LIFE IS LIKE A GOOD PHOTOGRAPH

It's no "Snap"

You have to begin with the right subject; compose your shot carefully; check your light and expose properly. And then you're not through. It takes patience and expertise in the Darkroom; a negative that is not too thick or too thin plus just the right amount of cropping and enlarging on the final Print. But the real joy comes when you show and share the finished product with others.

Congratulations...
you're on your way
